HUNGKONG, OCTOBER 27TH, 1885.

A SALUTARY change has come over the British foreign policy. The paltering uncertainty of Lord GRANVILLE and the partial sentimentalism of Lord Ripon have been exchanged for intelligent statesmanship. Lord Salisbury is unlikely to get, but he has at least determined to let it be known what he means. The policy of bluster and collapse which been abandoned, and in substitution thereof a decided policy has been adopted. It was the knowledge of this fact, no doubt, that brought about a pacific settlement of the Afghan frontier difficulty; had the GLAD-STONE Government continued in power it is probable we should have drifted into war. A conflict with the King of BURMAH has long exports, and tonnage dues. been inevitable, though it was steadily postly refused to notice Theebaw's murderous atrocities or to be cognisant of his brenches of faith to British subjects engaged in trade with his country. It is satisfactory to find that the Salisbury Government are not disposed to shut their eyes to what is going on on the eastern frontier of our Indian Empire. Reuter has kept us fairly informed of the progress of affairs, and his last telegram shows that the Government know whither their action is tending and are fully prepared that a war will probably result in annexation, sary. This is the simple truth. Now that the British Government has at last intervened in Upper Burmah, having first allowed the deprayed and cruel young monarch to fill up the measure of his iniquities to the very brim, it is imperative that they should act decisively. The eyes of all our Indian feu datories are upon us, and any sign of weakness will assuredly have a most baneful effect. In the interests of the people of British Burman, too, it is the bounden duty of the British Government to take steps to save them from the loss and injury which anarchy in Upper Burmah entails. Warning cares for his country nor for his own credit, coffer-dam and bolt it over the fracture in Truth to tell, no doubt, long continued impunity from punishment has handened him been carefully removed and an even surface into defiance of all interference, and he has long been utterly callous to all representations Even now we believe that he gives no heed to British : he ta because he is unable to underetand they are really meant. Meyer & Co. were entitled to judgment he bebut it is not at all difficult to surmise what it lieved at the same time that Mr. Jurgens had 18. The intrigues of the King of Burmah with the French Consul at Mandalay, colminating in the draft of a treaty which practically hand ed over the administration of the country to French officials, and which was conveyed, it seems, to Paris by a Burmese Embassy, would alone justify a declaration of war, seeing how injuriously the interests of British subjects of all races in that portion of the globe would have been affected by such a treaty had it been signed. We have already recapitulated with France, and it is needless to refer to Treaty has had much to do with the action taken by the British Government, but that in order to recruit his exhausted coffers had the audacity to issue a Decree against the gallant officer, he expressed a preference for a strong gale from the East (a little coutherly); that sistence from those on board, but the night was labour, and $2. was awarded to the jinricksha soious and were unaware of what was transpiring Hongkong and China Bakery Company, Limited Corporation for the modest sum of twentyfour lakbs of rupees, threatening if they operations. has been deploted by his rockless extravagance, while trade has been strangled YEAR'S by the restrictive policy which makes him a monopolist of every good thing in the country. There is in addition a long score against the King for his past misdeeds, and it may safely be concluded that the British Government, having once turned their attention to his doings, have determined there shall be no repetition of the wholesale massacres in Mandalay that shocked the whole civilised world a short time ago. The war, if war there be, will not be protracted or on a large scale. The entire population of Upper Burmab, exclusive of the Shan States, is probably not much over a million, the King's army is small, badly armed worse paid, and not distinguished for cour age. The people are eager to be delivered from his galling yoke, and the inhabitants of British Burmah will be greatly benefited by the abolition of the restrictions which now check the development of their traffic with Upper Burmah and shut them off from intercourse with Western China, We are glad to note that new this long pending Burmah question has come to a head the British Government are determined to deal firmly with the barbarian ruler of Ava. and. spite of humanitarian outcries, are resolved to act fearlessly for the good of the empire at

The total number of members is 28, bringing the sum of $1,340 to start the Association with By taking out the number of Life Members is appears that the yearly income will only amount 3380, in addition to any money obtained from subscribers. On account of the number members not being so large as was expected, and the consequent small amount of capital and yearincome, it was decided not to carry out every hing as originally intended, notably, the breed ing establishment, which, to be of any material good, would have absorbed all the available resources of the Association.

Pheasants have been obtained from Japan an Shanghai, Partridges from different Coast ports, Hainan and South China, and Jungle Fowl from Hainan. The man who sent me the game from any place used, at my direction, to enlist the services of a Chinaman on board, either one of the crew or a passenger, to look after the birds, and used to pay him a small donceur according to the percentage of deaths and condition of the birds on arrival. This, of course, added slightly to the cost of the birds, but I think it was cheaper in the end, as, judging from one consignment that came down unattended, many more birds would have died before landing if they had no one to look after them. I had aviary fitted up near my quarters, and most of the birds on landing were put there for a few days to work off stiffness before being turned

After the collining the clouds disappeared. In the evening of the same day, these two coloured clouds returned. One piece of the blue cloud, as large as a large tub, hovered over the coffin about ten feet above it. The light emitted from the cloud was yellow and its brilliancy was like day. At dnight its light disappeared. On the 8th ly of the 11th moon Mr. Hau started for Peking, a distance of about 40 days' journey. On leaving his own door there were two mists, one green, one purple, standing twenty feet high, and continued about as long as one taxes to eat a meal, and then disappeared. He came to Peking to lodge a complaint with an Imperially appointed official who has the direction of such occurrences. His office is called Changtien shih and his name is Chang-chieh. The poor man turned up at the hospital and recounted the above story. We took him in for some time and questioned and cross-questioned him several times, but his story never changed. He said his wife had become quite stupid. Of his oldest daughter, he said a weasel jumped down from the top of a wall upon her head, and when carried out her legs quivered. When he nimself was attacked, he said he went to ray to the Lord of Heaven, when it thunered twenty times and there were flashes of lightning. ### HONGKONG

.The past week has not been very exciting. The Logislative Council met on the 21st inst., when the Appropriation Bills were referred to the Finance Committee, the Loan Ordinance, 1885, the Prisons' Ordinance, 1885, and the Bill to provide for the administration of small Chinese Imperial Loan of 1884 C-5 per cent. estates, were all read a second time. The first ordinary meeting of the Hongkong and Macao Glass Manufacturing Company, Limited, was held on the 24th inst. The chartered transport Mexican arrived here on the 21st inst. bringing the Northamptonshire Regiment as relief for the let Battalion The Buffs. Two stabbing cases have occurred during the interval, one of which, committed on the night of the 25th inst., threatens to prove a fatal case. - Both were committed by European seamen. A cricket match, Officers of the Garrison v. Hongkong Cricket Club, was played on the 23rd and 24th inst, which resulted in a victory for the Club by 10 wickets. The Mascotte Opera Company have given three performances during the week, producing "Perichole," Patience," and "H. M., S. Pinafore." The Buffs have received telegraphic information that they will probably have to disembark in Egypt. . It seems probable that The Buffs will not go straight home after all, though they will not go to Cyprus. On Saturday afternoon a telegram was received here which announced that the Regiment would probably disembark in Egypt.

THE RETURN OF THE DAI IN KUN TO KOREA.

The Daily News says:-The Dai In Kun has etarned to Korea, and arrived at Chemulno on the 3rd inst., taking up his temporary residence at the Chinese Consulate. Large crowds of Koreans assembled to see him land, and he was accompanied by a gnard of sailors from the Chinese men-of-war that took him over. addressed the assembled multitude, and on Monday, the 5th, left for Seoul, escorted by two companies of Chinese marines. The cortège reached the capital at 2 p.m. the same day, the King going as far as the city gate to meet the Kowloon returning exile.

The Mercury says :- The arrival of the Dai In Kun in Korea, on the 3rd inst., we are sorry to learn, was followed almost immediately by the 19.45 spilling of blood; two of his too sanguine parti- 12.45 P.M. sans, who had used seditions language or threats against the present Government, having been promptly decapitated by orders of the latter. It is to be hoped the return of the Dai In Kun to his native country may not turn out a gross mistake. It is also reported that the two retainers of that personage of bloody renown, who were put to death after his late arrival in Korea, were implicated in the murder of the Queen's uncle and, it is said, at the instigation of the leader of the outbreak in Seoul during the summer of
